

Eyes

1

Start with an elongated hexagon shape.
*this shape does not have to be perfect or symmetrical.

2

Round out the hexagon and add the tear duct.
*I like drawing the tear duct a bit lower than the outer edge of the eye.

Add the iris, pupil, tear line and eyelid fold.
*when drawing the iris, try to draw it partially covered by either the top or bottom eyelids.

At this point, feel free to add top and bottom eyelashes if you are drawing a female. I usually do not add eyelashes when drawing males in this drawing style.

eyebrows

*When drawing males, I just try to make the eyebrows less defined and messier.
Something like this:

Use eyebrow position in order to indicate emotion. See the
