

1. Long-Term Goals

Number of months you'll be working towards these goals (3, 6, 12): _____

*These are your big goals. They should feel a bit scary but also doable for you when taking into account your own life situation and also the amount of months you've set.

Personal These have to do with your mental/physical wellbeing and hobbies.	Professional These have to do with soft or hard skills that will help you expand professionally or in an area you'd like to pursue professionally in the future.	Interpersonal These have to do with the relationships you have with family, friends and colleagues.

Non-negotiables These are all of the activities that you're not willing to give up and simply must be done every week, no matter what (ex.: end work day at 5:00 p.m., 6:00 p.m. dinner with family, 1 hr. daily workout, go to bed at 10:00 p.m.). Usually these are connected to your goals in some way, shape or form.

2. Monthly Objectives

Specific months you'll be working towards your goals (ex. Jan.-Apr., Jan.-June): _____

*Break your big goals down into doable monthly chunks. Be specific!

	Personal	Professional	Interpersonal
Month
January
February
March

Month	Personal	Professional	Interpersonal
April
May
June

	Personal	Professional	Interpersonal
Month
July
August
September

	Personal	Professional	Interpersonal
Month
October
November
December

3. Weekly Tasks

Week of: _____

*Break down monthly objectives into doable daily tasks you'll be working on each week. This is just an example of how you could structure your weekly planning, but these tasks are what you'd plug into your planner/agenda.

	Monday	Tuesday	Wednesday	Thursday	Friday	Weekend
Morning
Afternoon
Evening

Week of: _____

Morning

Afternoon

Evening

	Monday	Tuesday	Wednesday	Thursday	Friday	Weekend